GALLAUDET HOME

Two of the women residents have died here this month. Miss Mary L. Lockwood, who was eighty-six years of age, and had been living here for twenty-seven years, died on the morning of the fourth of March, at 4:30, and her remains were taken to Wappingers Falls, three miles away, and placed in a receiving vault, where they are still awaiting burial.

Mrs. Anna Patterson, who was seventy-two years of age on the fourth day of February, and who had been living here since the 30th of May, 1914, along with her husband, died on the morning of March 17th, at 7:30, of cancer and a complication of other ailments. At 11:30 A.M., on Monday, March 20th, the Rev. John H. Kent delivered a short and simple service over Mrs. Patterson's remains, and so they were taken to the cemetery for interment, on the farmstead, some five hundred feet from the Home.

As the day was very rainy and the ground very wet, no one went over to the cemetery but the husband of the deceased to see it laid at rest. Mrs. Patterson's only son, William Patterson, Jr., who married a second time a couple of years ago, and who is somehow connected with the management of the N. Y. C. & Hudson River Railway, was up here several times to see his mother before she died, and the day before she was buried he came up with a couple of friends, and his fourteen year old daughter, Grace.

The father of Mr. James H. Caton, Andrew Jackson Caton, died at the Grassland View Hospital, in Westchester County, on the 5th of January, at the age of eighty-five. Up to the time of his father's death, Mr. Caton was the only inmate of the Home who had a father still living.

Within eleven months, dating back to the 17th of April, 1921, to the 17th of March, of this very month and year, as many as five women have died here, all of whom, with the exception of the late Mrs. Skinkle and Mrs. Anna Patterson, were over eighty years of age. All being so old, we have as a matter of course no need to consider the death rate or mortality high here. At present there are only ten women and twelve men now living here.

During the past winter season Mr. McMann has been up here several times to entertain the folks to a moving picture show, and each time all enjoyed seeing the pictures. Mr. McMann was up here on the second of March, and with him came the editor of this enterprising paper, Mr. E. A. Hodgson, on business of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees.

Somehow the side of Mr. McMann's movie machine case got broken, and so Mr. I. N. Soper, who is Jack of all trades, repaired it in an elaborate and satisfactory way and the workmanship delighted Mr. McMann. It was a delicate and difficult job.

Though isolated and lonely as this place is, it is not altogether the quietest place in the world. Much of the time the men disturb the peace of the hearing folks by unconsciously slamming the doors.

Long ago the idea that the automobile is a much quicker thing than the horse dawned upon Mr. Samuel Gardner, that it would be something magnificent if he should get an automobile for the use of himself and his family, and so, after thinking the matter over for a year, he at last decided to purchase one. He is already hard at work making a garage hard by his residence, and as soon as it is finished his new Nash auto will occupy it. It makes Janitor Bergen tremble whenever he is told that Mr. Gardner may become a better chauffeur than he is.

Mr. Robert M. Robertson, of Arlington, N. J., was here on the 25th of last February, to tell a few stories to the members of the family in the chapel on the day following, and did so, and left for home in the afternoon. His wife accompanied him. He is a carpenter by occupation, and has steady work. He and his wife hope to be here again some day.

Shortly after dinner, on Sunday, March 19th, George and Alexander Friedmann, who are working in Beacon, N. Y., a small town on the Hudson River, some twelve or fifteen miles south of here, showed up at the Home unexpectedly, to see their old friend, this correspondent, and after a short and hasty chat with him, they paid their respects to the matrons, and hurried away to catch the 2:45 P.M. train for Beacon.

The two brothers had walked all the way here from home, and Alexander, athletic as he is, confessed that the long walk had exhausted him, and that he went to bed at seven P.M. that day. He is seventeen and George is twenty-three. The two young men are the grandson of the late Mrs. S. J. Bayne, who lived here for thirteen years, and died here on the third of March, 1920.

As soon as Uncle Sam joined hands with the Allies, George enlisted in the American Army, and went to France and did some hard fighting. He was gassed and listed with the wounded, and returned home in the spring of 1919. The two brothers were accompanied by a friend. Alexander came again to see me on Sunday, March 26th. This time he came up by rail.

Alexander and George are the brothers of William Friedmann, who left Fanwood at the age of fifteen, in April, 1907, to support his mother, Mrs. Mary Egan, who had lately become a widow. William died in November, 1907, after being bitten by a dog. On one occasion he undertook to visit his grandma here, but being unable to find the Home, he turned back and went home.

Mr. Gilbert Hicks, of Westbury, L. I., a friend of the Home, writes and tells me that he celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday on January 22d, and that at that time he was in good health and that he did not feel old. On his last birthday as many as eighteen friends dined with him. Mr. Hicks recently sent me a model of a tree moving device.

STANLEY.

OREGON—WASHINGTON.

March 22—The mother of L. O. Christenson, who holds card No. 3 of Seattle Local International Typographical Union, died February 12th. He has the sympathy of deaf mutes all over the world.

The mother of Andrew Genner died March 12th, at Seattle.

J. A. and Lizzie Gerwig Fisher Sundayed with the Reeves. They will sell their Portland home and move on a ranch near Vancouver.

Mrs. Fred De Lanoy has been very sick.

Gannon nearly lost his hand by accident at the coopeage.

A mere man guessed the first initial of the S. F. L. Club to mean social. And I guessed the right name. So it is no use to accuse any woman of telling tales out of the circle.

The S. F. L. Club met at the home of Mrs. H. P. Nelson this week. The next meeting will be with Miss Leona Penland, at her fine home in Vancouver.

The Gerdes want to go to Pendleton. The mother and kid are eager, but the father prefers Portland.

Guile Leo Deliglio is now Ford crazy. She has no time to write after working with the flippers.

Jake and Alice Lehtenberger Garbarino are now domiciled at 260 Cook Avenue.

C. H. and Mabel Sculan Lindo motored over the Columbia River Highway Monday. The snow drifts are still visible and impressive, the highway being cut through them.

Mrs. H. P. Nelson won the prize for the most beautiful box, Bud Huntings paid the most for his box, and Mrs. Anthony Kautz got the prize for the worst make-up of a box. Mrs. Kautz put up her lunch in two sacks slung on a pole over her shoulder, in imitation of the way this JOURNAL correspondent is said to tramp. For her benefit he will say it is done only in movie comedies.

The Vancouver mutes flocked to the home of Horace and Mary Flagg Weston, March 18th, for an evening at 500.

Louis A. and Belle Stout Divine took dinner with Bird Lee and Dorothy Campbell Craven on March 19th.

John O. and Mina Minton Reichle took pot luck with Ashley C. and E. E. J. Reeves March 19th. Of course, the kids and the elders had their fill of the best of country cooking.

The little boy of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, of McMinnville, had his thumb stuck boy-like between the door and the jamb. A gust of wind blew the door shut and smashed the thumb. The boy did not cry out, but tried to attract attention by stamping on the floor. Finally he pulled off. The doctor amputated and dressed the hand, without an outcry from the little fellow. Beats me.

Ashley C. Reeves may have bought a horse since he has failed to rent one. It means he will be kept busy on the farm.

Philip Henry Divine had several prostrations this week, his pulse falling to 21, but his extraordinary vitality and latent Irish pugnaciousness may fool us all.

April 7.—Charles Peacher is somewhere in Idaho. Maybe at Boise. His divorced wife in Iowa would like to know his exact whereabouts, as she needs the alimony for the children and herself.

Ozias Stevens has gone to Hood River. Efforts by local deaf to prevent his marriage to a recent Nebraska arrival, are responsible. It is a pity the compulsory medical examination prior to issuance of marriage licenses law failed of passage last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson from Eddyville, are in Portland. He may work on an eastern farm for $85 and keep.

Eastbrook has finally secured a divorce from Ruby Eastbrook.

Albert Lynch, of Scotland, is visiting relatives on Hawthorne Avenue. He worked in Hamburg, Germany, before the World War. He says it was the busiest in the world, with good wages and plenty of eats. Now wages are down to nothing in actual barter, though they are paid in thousands of marks, and so eats are few.

Amos Ladd, a product of the Hartford School, visited his daughter in Seattle for a week, before returning to his shoe repair shop in Baker. Being in the late seventies, he is planning to retire and move to California, where he may play at gardening on a small place between Richmond and Oaks.

Alfred Waugh went to Hood River, to visit his brother and families, going thence to Seattle. Whether he will bring his wife to his place on the Columbia, is not known. But the soil is extremely productive and ought to yield enough in the few years to pay for the best and most expensive auto or airplane. Go to it, Alfred.

Carl Gillis won his suit for back wages against the foundry company, and promptly went fishing.

Claire Reeves made a cleanup of his five acre ranch last week, and discovered he had much idle land that could be easily seeded down to pasture grass or made productive in garden sass.

The Lindes motored over to the Washington School for the Deaf.

William Seaman, Jr., has been working at his trade of janitor in a hotel on Fourth Avenue, where his father and brother are also employed.

Judging from the long lists of jobs with good wages listed at the various employment agencies, work seems to be waiting on the worker. But these jobs are not in Portland or Vancouver, but in the forests, mountains, or on the ranches and coast.

Lysle Fowler and wife worked for Mike Schlachter last week. What Lewis O. Christenson has been to the deaf in Seattle, Berkeley, and wherever he has lived, Mike Schlachter has been to the deaf of Portland and Vancouver. Both deserve the biggest pairs of angel wings and all the honey and milk wanted in the next world.

Carl Gillis has a new auto—a roadster. This is his third. He will go to the Dallas and the east beyond, to work.

Mrs. Ross is going to Montana soon, to join her husband there.

H. P. Nelson criticizes my

JOURNAL reports. He sees not the beam in his own eye, for the George Lawrence of his articles is Chas. R. Lawrence in fact.

It is silly too, to keep on urging a young man and wife to work overtime to pay for a house and lot bought on inflated valuation. It will be to their gain in health, happiness and wealth, to go to the farm in Tillamook, rent or sell the house and wait for better times. But none is so blind as those who won't see.

The deaf in the country who knew Mrs. A. B. Greener will miss her, and sympathize with her husband and children and relatives. She was one woman.

THEO. C. MUELLER.
VANCOUVER, WASH.

AN APPEAL.

We hope the JOURNAL readers will contribute to the very worthy cause set forth in the appeal of Mr. Tse Tien Fu.

Nationality should not play a part in helping our brethren who are deaf. All the world of deaf-mutes are brothers and sisters. Their concern and trouble should be ours. Let us all help in conferring upon one or more deaf-mutes the blessings of education.

Contributions sent to E. A. Hodgson, Editor DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, P. O. Station M, New York City, will be publicly acknowledged, and forwarded promptly.

APPEAL OF THE HANGCHOW PRIVATE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

The school for the Deaf in Hangchow has been running for seven years. There are many students who are anxious to come. But we are in short of fund, we are not able to receive them all. We feel very sorry that we have to turn them away.

Some time ago we received $75.00 through Silent Worker toward the fund of our school. We are indeed grateful. Our students will never forget the kindness of our foreign friends.

At present we are sending out an appeal through DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL in hope that those who are interested in our Deaf School in Hangchow may be willing to contribute some money to help the school in order that we may receive more students. The deaf through the agency of our work may also receive the Gospel. Those who desire to contribute please send their money to Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson.

Sincerely yours,
TSE TIEN FU.

Four Hundred Deaf-Mutes Fox Trot to Jazz Music at a "Silent" Ball

The quietest affair of the year was held in Achtel-Stetter's Saturday night. The deaf-mutes gave a dance.

The entertainment provided was full of motion, if not audible. And the ballroom was full of color punctuated by the flutter of hands in animated joyful conversation, as the 400 members and their guests regaled themselves.

The dancing was unusually good, as the couples had to strictly attend to business, since they could not use their hands to converse, and the rhythm came to their ears in the form of vibrations. The piano and wind instruments had extra attachments to increase the vibration, so the music could be "felt" all over the large ballroom.

The music was jazzy and all the new forms of dancing were observed. The absence of two of the five senses did not in the least interfere with the enjoyment of the occasion. The good old tunes of "I Ain't Nobody's Girl" and "Wabash Blues" was fox trotted with the latest movements.

The entertainment included feature dances by amateurs. The best of these were Eddie Weiss in his own burlesque dance, Roilly, and Frazee in a waltz novelty, and Fitzgerald and Tully in exhibition fox trot. The punch served was not mute, according to report. It spoke for itself.

The affair was promoted by the New Jersey Deaf-Mute Society, a social and literary organization, which also has a death benefit feature. The society was organized in 1883 and was recently incorporated. The officers are: President, Charles Casaccia; Vice-President, Anthony Patocio; Secretary, Frank Hoppaugh; Treasurer, A. W. Shaw; Counsel, W. M. Norton. F. W. Hoppaugh, Chairman of the Arrangements Committee, was given great credit for the success of the enterprise.

The society will give a fancy dress ball at Krueger's Auditorium on May 13.—Newark Ledger.

Buffalo, N. Y.

John Benjamin Herman will be remembered as a pupil at Fanwood in 1884. After graduating, he came to Buffalo, where he was employed in one of the Boot and Shoe Factories for forty-two years. He passed away on April 6th, 1922, leaving his wife (nee Miss Buxton) and son, Kermit, to mourn the loss of a good husband and father.

Mr. Frank Seely is absent from home to take care of his father, who was confined to bed, but is now improving in health. Also his mother is not well. Frank has to stay with them for a while, at their home in Belfast. When they get better he will come home again to Buffalo.

SAMUEL FRANKENHEIM, Treasurer pro tem, De l'Epee Memorial Statue Fund.

18 West 107th Street, NEW YORK CITY.
April 5th, 1922.

The above report just issued is but an indication of the strengthened financial position of the Statue Fund, for it is known that there is still considerable money having been collected but not reported to the Committee. The collectors are urged to send in the money as soon as possible, as the Fund needs it so as to earn more interest. Volunteers are wanted everywhere to aid the cause.

De l'Epee was born 210 years ago, and France is dotted here and there all over the land with a statue or some other memorial, which mutely testified to his great worth. We, Americans, speak practically the same sign language as the Frenchmen, yet there is nothing in the United States to show our gratitude to the man who blazed the way to light up the minds of the deaf, under such difficult and distressing circumstances as were prevalent two centuries ago.

Contributions are earnestly solicited, no matter how small, and sent to the undersigned.

The tenth day of May next marks the rounded century since the good Abbe Sicard's death.

As was stated in this column last week, it is to Sicard that we directly owe a debt of gratitude for helping Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet in his quest for knowledge of a method of educating the deaf.

Gallaudet was rebuffed in Scotland, where the Braidwoods successfully taught deaf-mutes, but kept their methods secret.

So Gallaudet got all his knowledge from Sicard.

This knowledge, and the aid of a deaf-mute teacher, in the person of Laurent Clerc, made certain the establishment of the first public school for the deaf at Hartford.

The deaf of the United States should be grateful to Sicard and honor his memory on the one hundredth anniversary of his death.

The above is a brief repetition of what was written last week.

It was not written or printed as an appeal, but as a suggestion.

Up to this date, April 18th, three of New York's organizations of the deaf have responded.

The Deaf-Mutes' Union League has sent, through Mr. Frankenheim, twenty-five dollars.

The League of Elect Surds has sent ten dollars.

The Hebrew Association of the Deaf has sent ten dollars.

And we are informed that other New York organizations will take favorable action at their next meeting.

Every organization of the deaf throughout the country, whose business meetings are conducted through the language of signs, should send Mr. Gaillard a money donation.

All donations will be acknowledged in La Gazette des Sourds-Muets, and copied in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

To reach him in time requires about seven days from New York.

The best way to send money in small amounts is by Post Office Money Order. Bank drafts, for $10 or upwards, is also safe and sure.

Send the money before May 1st.

Send it directly to Mr. Henri Gaillard, and make drafts or money orders payable to him. His address is: Henri Gaillard, 94 Rue de la Mare, Paris, France.

The quota of $100 for the fund to help the School for the Deaf at Hangchow, China, has been subscribed with twenty-two dollars more for good measure. A draft for $112 was on its way before the final ten dollars was sent in. The Bulletin of contributions accompanied the draft. The "Appeal" printed in the JOURNAL will be discontinued.

Gallaudet College.

The Saturday Night Dramatic Club presented a one-act play, "Beauty and the Jacobin, an Interlude of the French Revolution," by Booth Tarkington, on Saturday evening, April 15th. Probably it was too ambitious an attempt for the "fair-to-middling" amateurs of Gallaudet. Added to this was the danger of overdoing the conversational part, which, while very effective on the hearing stage, because of its liveliness and sparkling wit, was only with difficulty translated into the sign language. A lack of adequate preparation was evident which perceptibly detracted from its success. But while it did not rise above the average neither did it fall below.

The Gallaudet Branch of the Y. M. C. A. held its annual inaugural ceremonies on Sunday afternoon, April 16th, in Chapel Hall. Bernard Teitelbaum, '23, succeeded Wesley Lauritsen, '22, as president. After the ceremony of the installation, the student body was addressed by Mr. William Knowles Cooper, Secretary of the Washington Y. M. C. A. As it was Easter Day, Mr. Knowles gave an Easter message.

A Lip-Reading Club was lately organized. The election of officers resulted as follows: Clarence Baldwin, '23, President; Doris Ballance, '25, Vice-President; Robert Fletcher, P. C., Secretary. The purpose of the club is to keep up interest in lip-reading among the undergraduates by giving the members an opportunity to practice on difficult lips. About thirty enrolled. Speakers will be invited to address the club for fifteen minutes every Monday night.

A Y. W. C. A. meeting was held in the Girls' Reading Room on Sunday evening, April 16th. The following program was presented:

Opening Prayer—Tillie Makowski.
Hymn—"Resting from Labors," Ella Clarkson.
Easter and the Y. W. C. A.—Doris Ballance.
The Death, Resurrection and Ascension of Jesus—Minnie Sowell.
Closing Prayer—Ruth Nanney.

Tents have been taken out and given a sun-bath; camp utensils have been scoured, and things in general put in readiness for the advent of the camp period which begins Wednesday afternoon, April 19th, and ends Monday, the 24th. There does not appear to be a pronounced desire to reduce the supplies as yet. In recent years, the amount of supplies handed over often severely taxed a large truck engine, which fact has led several in banter to suggest the change of the name "Camp Gallaudet" to "Hotel Gallaudet."

Kelly Stevens, '20, art instructor at the Trenton School, was a week end visitor.

Gallaudet, o Hampden-Sidney, 8
Gallaudet was unable to break into the winning column at the expense of the Hampden-Sidney nine last Wednesday.

The score was 8 to 0 against us.

It was an off day for our batters as only one clean safety was registered, that being a single by Danofsky. The visiting twirler had our boys at his mercy, and it was not a few that he struck out. Our fielding was not as good as it should have been.

The visitors hit the ball hard and fielded well. Their victory was a well earned one. Boatwright and Lahn twirled for Gallaudet with Rose receiving them.

CHICAGO.

Time was when we deaf would be kicked and cuffed,
For we lived like poor brainless slaves;
(Tis always the helpless get rudely roughed—
And dumped into "failures' graves.")
But gone are those days—for "in Union's strength,"
And mortals like you and me
Will demand our rights through the city's length—
By the strength of the C. A. D.

By-laws of the new Chicago Association of the Deaf, incorporated under the laws of Illinois as a branch of the N. A. D., were adopted at the C. A. D. meeting in the Pas-a-Pas club rooms, April 8th.

Something new in the line of Nad branches was sprung in this section: "The objects of the Association shall be Primarily—to act as a central clearing house of information and ideas touching on the inalienable constitutional rights of the deaf to life, liberty and pursuit of happiness; Secondly—to stimulate social activities and foster good fellowship among the deaf, consistent with the activities of the parent association, viz:"

Members of the Nad automatically become members of the Cad. There are NO FEES OR DUES, the revenue accruing from social affairs. If this idea pans out successfully, it will open a new era in silent circles. Every club and organization in town has at one time or other been lambasted as "money-mad robbers."

Everyone will watch the outcome. A unique touch was the presence of Dr. George T. Dougherty, who was present at the founding of that organization.

Robert Jacobson turned his motorcycle out three weeks ago, to avoid a Ford. The Ford did not reciprocate, and Robert's arm was badly injured in the collision. Robert is suing.

The following Wednesday Robert was on his way to call on Rev. Hasenstab. Stopped at a street intersection and peered intently in all directions before crossing—as we deaf do in this age of automobiles. Suspicious policeman stepped up and grabbed him. Jacobson informed the cop he was "dum-deaf" in signs more emphatic than polite. Then pulled out pencil and an old envelope and took the cop's number. Cop noted the address on the envelope. Rev. Hasenstab's. Released the deaf man forthwith.

That's all right; but if the cops get into the habit of stopping us deaf folks, just because we are deaf, there'll be work for the C. A. D. soon.

Anna Molloy died at the Gibson home April 8th, aged 72.

Anna, a slender, sweet-faced, white-haired, active old lady, had been the Gibson's "maid" for 29 years and five months. During all these days of industrial unrest, when the average tenure of a job is a few weeks. This quiet old woman stuck to one situation for nearly 30 years. The Gibsons treated her like one of the family. About a month ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis. Growing steadily worse, pneumonia finally developed, and her last days were painful. Through all this the Gibsons were kindness personified. Arrangements to move to their new home, recently purchased in Evanston, were postponed during Miss Molloy's illness.

Rev. Hasenstab read the burial services from Skeele's excellent parlors, 55th and Wabash. Mrs. Hasenstab, Miss Cora Jacobs and Mrs. Meagher, recited hymns. About 30 were present, including many of Miss Molloy's wealthy relatives. Burial was in the Gibson lot in Rosehill.

Chicago has so many parties each month, that only a few brief words can be given any of them, unless there is some special feature attached that makes it n-e-w-s. Under this category comes the one of April 9th, celebrating the silver wedding anniversary of Ernest and Louise Schroeder. Including children and grandchild, and a parcel of deaf and hearing friends, fully forty-three attended. Gifts (not all of silver) were plentiful; those who brought no gifts contributed a "silver offering for the silver wedding." It is said the eats and drinks and smokes set Grandpaw Schroeder back some forty plunks, which gives an idea of the good time. A few of the out-of-town guests noted were: Miss Lenora Bjorkquest, of Clinton; Miss Elsie Buckley, Mrs. C. Schmidt, the A. Kauffs, and C. Delanos, of Aurora; and the M. Mathias and H. Hathaways, of Elgin.

The Silent A. C. baseball team has joined the Inter-city League, under Abe Migatz as manager. Several prizes will be awarded the best dancers at the "shirt waist dance" of the Sac, April 29th.

April 15th Roy Dewey Lowe, formerly of St. Louis, married Miss Evelyn Florence Irwin, of Springfield. They are residing on the South Side.

Arnold Kiene returned home to Dubuque, Iowa, after several days in town on business. Kiene walks without a limp, having only a small bone-bruise as a souvenir of the mishap last fall, when a Daily News delivery-wagon horse used him as a door-mat.

An old Hebrew, named Levi, aged about 60, having made his pile in Mesdames Dougherty, Watson and Roberts, are of the ladies giving series of dinner-parties to their large circle of friends—six or so guests at a time.

Miss Lenora Bjorkquest, Clinton, has been the guest of Miss Elsie Buckley, of Aurora, for over a week, paying her first visit to Chicago deafdom in several years. Her brother is on the faculty of the Washington State School.

Miss Grace Hasenstab came to town bringing a lad, affected with bad eyes and ears, to a meeting of eye and nose specialists.

Mrs. John Purdum is spending a few weeks visiting her parents in St. Louis. Somehow John does not look as though a relapse into bachelorhood agreed with him.

Mrs. Adolph Struck is convalescing from a seige of pneumonia.

Ed Kingon entertained the Grip for two weeks.

Mrs. C. Fuller and Mrs. M. Hanna gave a surprise birthday party to old Grandpaw Brashar, on his 84th natal day, paying for the ice cream, etc., out of their own pockets, in stead of inviting guests and then sandbagging them for the wherewithal. Money and gifts rewarded the old Indian fighter.

Dates ahead: April 23, Magic, Sac benefit Mrs. Nels Olson. 29 Shirtwaist dance, Sac. "Literary Hash" at Pas. May 6—whist, All Angels.

Albert Berg, who has been alumni editor of the Silent Hoosier—the Indiana school paper since Hector was a pup, has the following excellent and accurate write-up of Jesse Albert Waterman, formerly conductor of this Chicago column, owner of the late-lamented Silent Courier, and the man who will go down to deathless fame in death history as the real founder of the Frats:

WHERE MERIT WINS

In a recent issue of The North Side Citizen, a virile and stable little paper, regarded as Chicago's most interesting and attractive community newspaper, the publisher has a salutatory editorial on the change in the paper's title from "The Ravenswood Citizen" because it had outgrown its name, from which we quote the following complimentary reference to Jess Albert Waterman

"When you see the headings 'step off' and 'spaced' just right, you may know that J. 'Bert' Waterman our distinguished appearing composing room foreman, may have caused it to be set over three or four times before he was satisfied. You will notice, especially in the display ads, that he is very 'fussy' about playing the 'white space' against the black matter, so as to produce the most pleasing and legible effect."

As foreman of the office Waterman made good from the start. He is a speed marvel in thinking, laying out work, handling things calling for quick decision, and in actual performance, in other words, doing printer-foreman's work. Printing foremen usually do most of their work at long range from swivel chairs. Jesse combines brain and leg action, and there's where he makes a hit.

There are many printers among Chicago's deaf population, but Waterman is easily the peer of the best among them. He is specialist as an ad. designer, having had special training along that line.

We take pride in his record, as he is a native Hoosier (born in Whitley county), and although his people moved from the state when he was quite young, he is premeated with Hoosier grit.

He is graduate of the Michigan State School. While a pupil there he got his first taste of Journalism, editing two miniature newspapers successively, called "Leisure Moments" and "The Literary Society Monthly." The latter ran three years and had the make-up of a regular publication. After he left school it was discontinued, "because the paper could not breathe longer without the Waterman push," as Prof. Stewart said at the time.

Waterman passed the Gallaudet College entrance examinations in his senior year at Flint, but instead of following up the opportunity he went to Chicago and the next five years devoted his talents to building up the Fraternal Society of the Deaf (now the N. F. S. D.), which he had founded. Some, among them now officers of the organization, laughed at his venture and called it a "kid's dream." He prepared its constitution and ritual, designed its badge and various emblems, in fact, conceived everything.

For a year he edited and managed the Buchanan (Mich.) Record, later serving as foreman in a large Chicago printing house, and has rounded out a year in a like capacity for the North Side Citizen.

A Visit to Lauder & Shean at Valley Stream, L. I.

Having received requests for information about the Lauder & Shean Device Manufacturing Co., of Valley Stream, Long Island, we decided to take a trip there on Sunday morning, April 9th. Although we live within a few miles of the place we knew almost nothing about the much discussed firm, which seems to be receiving much uncomplimentary notice in the deaf-mute press.

Accompanying us were Messrs. Eugene Lynch and Albert E. Seibold, the latter using his Ford for the trip. Harold Fitzpatrick, our son-in-law, acted as driver of the car.

Valley Stream is one of the smallest towns on Long Island and owes its existence to the fact that it is a railroad junction of the Long Island Railroad. It has less than a thousand population.

Arriving there we were directed to a substantial looking row of two-story houses. In one of these is located the "Lauder and Shean Booster Club." The basement and first floor are the club rooms. In the basement is a pool table and a bar—soft drinks only.

There we met about half a dozen deaf men. They were plainly not New Yorkers—both in their looks and behavior. One was from Mississippi, several others from Massachusetts, Connecticut, and elsewhere. After a talk on general subjects, we stated the object of our visit and asked those present what was manufactured by Lauder and Shean. The answers were evasive.

A whole lot of things were to be manufactured. Toys were being made then.

On inquiry we were told that both Lauder and Shean were in New York and would not be around till the next day (Monday). However, Mr. Haggerty was in the next house and we could speak to him.

After a while Mr. Haggerty came in, and he proved to be a very agreeable gentleman and a good talker. We told him that he had been in Nashville, Tenn., the previous week with Messrs. Lauder and Shean and Mr. Trainer. In Nashville he had solicited the deaf to buy stock. One of these deaf-mutes of Nashville had written to us to ask if we knew anything about Lauder and Shean. As we didn't, we had come to Valley Stream to find out.

We finally told Mr. Haggerty that there was a lot of unfavorable talk about the concern; that personally we knew nothing for or against it. We also told him that we knew what the claims of the firm were. That they promised to give the stockholders steady employment. Also that they expected to have a "Deaf Mute Colony" in Valley Stream.

We asked Mr. Haggerty why his firm did not solicit the deaf of New York to invest. They were nearest to the factory. Why did the firm go to distant cities, instead of first giving those nearest a chance to invest. In substance, Mr. Haggerty said that the deaf of New York were prejudiced. An editorial in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL had set the New York deaf against them. We told Mr. Haggerty that he ought to have solicited just the same, as all the deaf of New York did not read the JOURNAL, and his arguments could convince the New Yorkers the JOURNAL was wrong. He said he had seen Mr. Pach, but with what result, he did not say. At some future date, the firm would see the editor of the JOURNAL and Silent Worker. We again asked Mr. Haggerty what the firm made, but we got no satisfactory answer.

We were invited to look at the factory, but told in advance that we could have only a view of the exterior as the place was locked up. No one had a key.

The factory is a substantial looking frame building, located alongside the tracks of the Long Island R. R. The Long Island Electric railroad to Mineola also runs on one side. There is a big sign with the firm's name on the building.

As we alighted from the auto, the factory door was opened by a man, who we were told was the watchman, but he closed it again on a sign from some one.

We were told that we could look in the windows. We took advantage of the permission. There were several large rooms. Each room as far as we could see contained a single machine, except the main room. They seemed to be circular saws or moulding machines. The single machines looked kind of lonesome in such large rooms.

On one side is a brick building. It is used as a forge and a garage. The forge contains a blacksmith's forge and a single turning machine. In the adjoining building was housed a commercial car with the name of the firm in large letters.

Returning to the front, the watchman had re-opened the door, so we ventured to look in. We were not asked to go further than the door. Inside was a pile of blue painted boxes. We were told they were a "baseball game," a product of the firm.

Having evidently got all the information that was procurable, we bade the crowd good-bye.

From other sources, we learned that the firm of Lauder and Shean has been incorporated under the laws of the State of New Jersey, but they have made no statement of their valuation or other particulars.

Also the row of flats have been purchased for $300.00 There are we think eight buildings in the row. How much has been paid on the factory and flats we are not able to state. From the talk of the deaf-mutes in Valley Stream, it is expected to turn out all the hearing people in the flats, and give them to the deaf. One enthusiastic talker said that "some day there may be only deaf-mutes in Valley Stream."

Frankly, we were not very much impressed by the welcome we received at Valley Stream. We should imagine that a firm that is after the goodwill and money of the deaf, would welcome anyone with an open mind and tell all that they could to convince any one they were straight.

Instead of this we were viewed with suspicion, and unsatisfactory answers given. Besides this every one with us could not help noticing that half of the deaf employees were afraid to say anything and were frowned down by their in charge.

Miss Grace Butterbaugh, who had been working at the silk mill since last Christmas, left for home last month on account of dull work.

A delightful St. Patrick party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McArthur, by Charles McArthur, to a number of deaf friends. Those present were Miss Margaret Walker and Albert Lenz, of Johnstown, Miss Albert McElwee, of Huntingdon, Miss Mary Henderson, of Tyrone, Mr. and Mrs. David Singerman and children, Mr. and Mrs. George Curtin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brookbank and Gilbert Singerman.

The Silent Five, a basket ball team composed of deaf-mutes from Johnstown, Gallitzin and Juniata, failed to play at St. Leo's Hall in this city not long ago and dropped their game to the St. Leo's team to the tune of 50-20 on account of lack of practice, although they were good players. Hope they will succeed in beating the hearing teams next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Curtin visited the family of Brumbaugh, at New Enterprise recently, and had a big old time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butterbaugh visited Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Boyd at York, and then Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hagy at Harrisburg recently.

Mr. John Rosensteel, who is a garage repairer at Ebensburg, often comes in his car to see all of us. He is very popular among the deaf-mutes in this city.

HONOLULU

A new school for the deaf and the blind will be built at Waikiki, near Honolulu. In the last legislative session, an appropriation of $125,000 was granted for the biennial period, the money to be used in the following manner: $30,000 for dormitories, $2,500 for a laundry, $2,500 for servants' quarters, and $90,000 for maintenance, salaries, and repairs. As this sum is less than that requested, frame buildings will have to be erected instead of more substantial structures. The grounds cover an area of little more than five acres. The site situated so near the famed beach of Waikiki and the abundant growth of old trees, makes it a very beautiful setting for the school. It is almost on the slope of Diamond Head and not far from Fort Ruger's great mortars.

In 1914, Miss Gertrude Mason went to Honolulu to teach vocational work to a class of children composed of three mental defectives, two deaf, and two blind. School was first held in the old Chinese hospital building shack of the Kaulani school, where were taught among other things bead work, basketry, hammock making and chair mending. It was in this manner that the Territorial School for Defectives came into existence.

The opening of the Territorial Home for the Feeble-Minded at Alea has separated the feeble-minded from those who are merely blind or deaf, leaving the two latter classes at Waikiki. At present the instruction of the deaf is entirely of a primary and intermediate nature. Trades will be taught later—Cal. News.

DEAF REPORTER'S HOPE GONE

John Breazeale in New Orleans Item

"Friends, Romans and countrymen! Lend me your ears. I come to bury my hopes, not to raise them. The evil that fevers do, live after them; the good is often interred in solid bone." It's a sad tale, mates, so "if ye have tears, prepare to shed them now." A little soft music, Professor, and boy, open me another "cocoanut."

"I want to look at your ears and see if anything can be done for them," said the Great Surgeon to me last Monday. "Come to my office Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock."

I had just seen him work, seen the magic of his genius and steady knife give unto three little deaf children a chance of hearing again. Many doctors have poked around these defunct ears of mine, and shook their heads in a solemn, lugubrious negative; but "hope springs eternal in the human breast" and my breast is at least half-way human. Reason told me not to hope, and spare myself another disappointment, but Divine hope and the hunger of a music-starved soul, are not to be bound by reason. And have I not seen his work?

The curtain now goes down on the prologue. Two days pass, two days of keen anticipation and fearful forebodings, of conflict between cold reason and struggling hope; two days of dragging hours; two nights of tormenting dreams. It is not grim reality that crushes and hurts us, it is our radiant dreams, the seeing of their warmth and colors shatter and die in the drab light of morning. A pauper child lying awake on Christmas eve, tingling with hope and yet fearful that the morn will disclose an empty stocking, lives such hours as composed these two days of intermission.

ACT ONE

The curtain rises on a well-fitted reception room, filled with waiting patients. A sweet old lady sat in a lounge, a very pretty but thin young lady sat with hands folded in her lap, fingers nervously twitching and clapping. The inevitable small boy with an illustrated paper. The Deaf Reporter sat stiffly in a hard chair, trying to be calm and to think of pleasant things. Slowly the clock hands crept, slower and yet slower. The boy rustled his papers, occasionally a patient shifted her position, but slower and slower dragged the minutes, deeper and deeper felt the silence, and one by one the maid called them in to the doctor. At last, a finger beckoned and the Deaf Reporter stepped through the closing door.

There were cases of glittering instruments about the room, a plain iron chair in which the Deaf Reporter was placed, and he was face to face with the Great Surgeon. Swift steady hands placed funnels to my ears and reflected light into them giving the surgeon an intimate glimpse of their internal decorations. Throat and tonsils were next inspected and told nothing. Then as I told him the history of the trouble he brought out an assortment of tuning forks. First he struck one and held it to my left ear. No sound. Then he placed it before my right one and still no sound. Changning forks he tried it again. Still no sound. Finally striking sharply a big fork, he placed it on the bone behind my ear. It just tickled. And that closed the case.

The Great Surgeon shook his head and his pencil wrote the final verdict of science versus silence.

"My Boy," came the swift, "you'll never hear again, just forget it." Straight from the shoulder it was from one man to another. And a fellow can stand a pretty hard knock if he braces his feet and takes it standing straight.

ST ANN'S CHURCH.

Easter services at St. Ann's Church were conducted last Sunday with customary splendor. The choir of seven young ladies appeared in collars of a new cut that were a great improvement over former styles. Rev. Mr. Steele, curate of St. Matthew's Church assisted in the communion service by administering the cup. Rev. Mr. Kent closed the Lenten season with an Easter sermon of the same vivid and inspiring nature as the series of brilliant homiletic treatises which he has been delivering every Friday and Sunday since Ash Wednesday, March 1st, and every evening of Holy Week preceding Easter.

Easter lilies decorated the altar, and on the walls flanking the altar was the text "Christ is risen from the Dead—Alleluia! And Become the First Fruits of Them that Slept—Alleluia!" The lettering of the text was the artistic work of Louis Cassinelli. The choir consisted of the Mrs. McCluskey, and Misses Klaus, Grossman, Hall, Lewis, Hunter and E. Sherman. Mr. Keith Morris served as crucifer, and the responses were led by Messrs. Funk and Mann, lay-readers. A special feature of the service was the dedication, at the opening of the service, of a set of new Altar Service Books bound in red morocco. These books were given by Miss Virginia B. Gallaudet in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson.

The next special day on the calendar of St. Ann's Church is Whitsunday, June 4th, when the church will be visited by Bishop Manning for the purpose of Confirmation. Several church members have expressed their desire to be confirmed on that date, and the Vicar is arranging a class to be instructed and prepared for this event. Any persons who wish to be confirmed into the church and have not already given their names to the Vicar are urged to do so, so that all preparation may be made in full and without delay.

As a part of the Lenten Service, the members of St. Ann's Parish witnessed on Saturday evening, April 8th, a religious drama entitled "Thy Kingdom Come," acted by Misses Margaret and Eleanor Sherman, Cecile Hunter, Kathleen McGuire, Florence Lewis, and Mabel Hall, and Messrs. Funk, Gillen, and Braddock. It was a costume play, representing the incident of the Resurrection in the life of Jesus Christ. The theme was the conversion to Christianity of the three Roman soldiers set to guard the sepulchre in which the Saviour was buried. The task of rendering the rather profound disquisitions in this play was carried out creditably by all the performers, and the costuming and scenery in particular were very impressive. The costumes, which were made by the young ladies under the direction of Mrs. Kent, mark the beginning of an effort on the part of the Rev. Mr. Kent to acquire for the church a suitable collection of Biblical make-up to be preserved for use on such occasions as this, when the need of them will be felt. The work of Mr. Pace in planning the stage scenery is worthy of mention, in company with the general spirit of zeal shown by all who were entrusted with the duty of making the performance do honor to the Lenten season of Devotion.

XAVIER E. S. NOTES.

The happiest day of the Church calendar was celebrated with Mass and Communion at St. Francis Xavier's Easter Day, under the auspices of the Xavier Ephpheta Society. Of the 260 deaf who prepared for the reception of the Sacrament at the College the day before, two thirds choose to attend in a body the Holy Sacrifice at the Alumni Chapel in the College East—Sunday morning at 9:30. Father Dalton, S.J., smiling and happy, was celebrant, attended by a lone little acolyte in red cassock and white surplice, whose grace and urbanity opened up the heart-strings of the assembled worshipers.

Father Dalton's sermon was a masterful effort. Short, crisp, and delivered in really wonderful sign language. Its inspiring effect on the deaf was the subject of gratifying comment at the conclusion of the service. Following, in the College open-air court, Ephpheta, grouped on the historic old stoop leading to the college, posed for a souvenir photo in front of Nazareth Ballan's camera, so that future generations of Ephpheta might recall the first Easter Mass held for the deaf at St. Francis Xavier's.

A happy incident of the Easter gathering of Ephpheta was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Ruth Arnold to Mr. James Reddy, both graduates of Dr. Taylor's School. It is hoped the glad day may be deferred until Jimmy's young brother, who is studying for the priesthood at St. Joseph's Seminary, is ready to officiate.

H. A. D. NOTES.

Fully two hundred and fifty persons crowded the S. W. J. D. Assembly Room to witness the Athletic Carnival and dedication of a bronze plaque in honor of Louis J. Robertson, Vice-President of the S. W. J. D., held under the auspices of the H. A. D.

Addresses were made by hearing gentlemen present, which were interpreted into the sign language by Rev. Albert J. Amateau.

The following was the athletic program:

Jack Denning, West Side Middleweight champion, fought a three round draw with E. Cohen, of City A C

Bobby Green defeated Terry Miller in four rounds.

Sammy Stone, featherweight contender for Johnny Kilbane's title, defeated Jack Lewis in four rounds.

Pete Keller, City A. C., 145 lbs, and Albert Arnstein, City A C, 170 lbs, wrestled fifteen minutes without a fall.

Abraham Grossman, champion of the H. A. D., and Wm. Rook, of the City A. C., at catchweights, wrestled fifteen minutes to a draw.

Special attraction of the evening was the twenty minute wrestling match between Capt. Harry Meyers, City A. C., National 158 lb champion, and Bob Dury, of the Boys' Club. Meyers pinned Dury in fourteen minutes.

An added attraction was a three round bout between Milton Haberman, champion of the H. A. D., and John Funk, of the Men's Club of St. Ann's Church, Funk winning the decision and also a silver medal.

Abraham Grossman, of the H. A. D., gave a very interesting gymnastic exhibition. A Goldfogle concluded the show with an Indian Club exhibit.

This Sunday evening, April 23d, Rev. John H. Kent will render several stories of psychic phenomena, entitled "The House and the Mind," under auspices of the H. A. D. Educational Committee.

The Neighborly Circle, consisting of Miss Howard, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Buhle, Mrs. Baigh, Mrs. McMann and Mrs. Pfeiffer, had a lovely call on Miss Gallaudet on Wednesday afternoon, April 12th, and found the atmosphere very pleasant, for Miss Gallaudet was a good entertainer. They dispersed for their homes at five o'clock, declaring that they had a grand time.

Mrs. Pfeiffer gave a "farewell" tea to the members of the Neighborly Circle on Thursday, April 13th. She will leave the next day for Lake George for the summer.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder, and as there is no end in the circle so there is no end of friend ship.

There was a gathering of the old-time schoolmates and friends, held at the residence of Mrs. Charles C. McMann, Tuesday evening, April 4th, to meet Miss R. Halpen, of Rochester, who very pleasantly re-member her. All of them talked of their old school days, which were so very enjoyable, till very late at night. Ice cream and cakes were served. Those present were Miss S. Howard, Miss G. Berley, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Jones, Mrs. J. H. Kent, Mrs. A. A. Barnes, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Nies, Miss A. E. Judge, Mrs. J. H. McCluskey, Miss C. Hunter, Dr. T. F. Fox, Mr. A. L. Pach, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McMann.

A deaf mute woman, giving her name as Mrs. Blanche M. Edwards (nee Bracy), was taken to Bellevue Hospital suffering from some form of aphasia. She wants to be taken home, but does not know where she lives. It is said she formerly lived in Whitehall, N. Y., and had been either a pupil or employee at the Malone Institution. Later—A cousin who lives in Brooklyn called and took her away.

Thaddeus F. Chabanski, of Chicago, Ill., is in town, and if successful in obtaining employment, may make this city his future home. He was in Los Angeles, where he claims to have operated a moving machine that produced movies in which Douglas Fairbanks starred.

Miss Zaida Bernstein visited her chum, Ida Katz, who is staying with her aunt, at Mount Kisco, April 16th to the 21st. She is looking splendid and sends her regards to see her friends. Miss Bernstein is now on her vacation at her home.

Miss Elizabeth Solomon wishes to express her thanks and gratitude to all the deaf mute friends of her sister, who attended the funeral services in her memory, on March 23d, 1922, at Campbell's Funeral Church, 66th Street and Broadway.

Al J. Geiger, a former pupil of the Fairwood School, died on Wednesday, April 5th, of pneumonia. He left school about thirteen years ago and had been living at Arverne, L. I., for quite a long time.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Schultz, on April 14th, at Mulderig Sanitarium 167th Street at Boston Road. Mother and child are doing well. The little baby's name is Muriel.

Cards are out announcing the first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stecker (nee Ruth Caplan, of Schenectady), on April 21st.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldolph Pfeiffer have gone to their cottage at Lake George to remain until winter arrives.

Miss R. Halpen went home on the Lackawanna, to Cortlandt, N. Y., Wednesday morning, April 12th.

St. Louis Briefs

Mrs. John E. Purdum, nee Doris Jackson, of Chicago, is in the city for a visit with her parents. Chicago is sure enough all right, but St. Louis is home.

The infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moegle and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Block were baptized, at St. Thomas' Mission on, April 2d, by the Rev. Dr. Cloud.

The Woman's Guild gives its semi-annual supper and bazaar at St. Thomas' Mission on the evening of May 27th. It will give its annual picnic at O'Fallon Park, Ground 4, on July 23th.

The State School at Fulton closes for the summer on May 24th. This is a shortening of the regular school year by some two or three weeks, but is unavoidable.

Mr. Charles Wolff, of this city, was granted a decree of divorce from his wife, formerly Mrs. Gotthamer (nee Lef), of New York, on March 9th. The couple have been separated the last few years.

The annual entertainment to be given under the auspices of the patrons, teachers, and pupils of Gallaudet School, will be held at Strassberger's Hall, South East of Grand and Shenandoah Avenues, on the evening of May 20th. The annual school picnic will be at Carondelet Park, Friday, June 2d, on Ground No. 1.

The St. Louis Division, N. F. S. D., held its first meeting on the 7th inst., in its new hall, at Eagle's Home, South East corner Jefferson and Lafayette Avenues. The hall and the location were highly praised, and it does look as if the Division will settle down for a while at least. The Division's annual picnic will be held at Triangle Park, on South Broadway, on June 25th.

The Patrons Association of Gallaudet School is working to obtain an entirely new school plant in a more favorable location, but not far from the present site. At a recent special election a higher tax rate for school purposes was approved, which will provide the needed funds for a new school with up to date equipment.

Superintendent McClure, of the Fulton School for the Deaf, is down for a lecture, at St. Thomas' Mission, on April 30th, but can not fill his appointment on that date. Mr. Gross will come in place of Mr. McClure on April 30th, and Mr. McClure come in place of Mr. Gross on October 22d. The only drawback to the exchange of dates is that it will make it necessary for its St. Louisians to wait a while longer before having the pleasure of meeting the new head of the State School.

Miss Mary Deem, who has been teaching at the Kendall School, Washington, D. C., the past few years, and who previously taught in the Tennessee and Maryland State Schools, has been appointed to fill a vacancy at Gallaudet School, and is expected to take up her duties here shortly after Easter. Miss Deem's mother and sister reside in St. Louis, and her sister, Miss Hattie Deem, has been teaching at Gallaudet School for several years. Miss Deem is well known in St. Louis, and her coming here to live will be a happy arrangement for all concerned.

Mr. James M. Trainor, a representative of the Lander-Shaan Manufacturing Company, of Valley Stream, Long Island, has been in the city for a few days, seeking to promote the interest of the company he represents and to interest local capitalists among the deaf to invest in the enterprise. Mr. Trainor has a pleasing personality and makes an excellent impression. He is a product of the oral school at Northampton, but for proficiency in the use of the sign language, his superior would be hard to find.

The second of the season's series of special lectures under the auspices of St. Thomas' Mission was given on a recent Sunday by Mr. A. L. Roberts, of Chicago, Secretary of the N. A. D. and Assistant Secretary of the N. F. S. D. He made a scholarly, clear cut and forceful address, at the morning service at the Mission, and in the evening gave a reading of one of Victor Hugo's masterpieces, in which a deaf mute is the central figure. It rained most of the time Mr. Roberts was in St. Louis, yet notwithstanding that drawback there was a good attendance at the service and quite a large number present at his lecture, and those who braved the elements were more than repaid for their trouble. An auto ride was a part of the program arranged for Mr. Robert's pleasure while here, but had to be given up owing to the continued rain.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 998 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

April 8, 1922—The April meeting of the Advance Society was held Tuesday evening in the Library of the School with 14 members present.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the last meeting, and approving several belated reports of the last social and giving approval to the purchase of a rug for a closet in the men's new building the business of the evening was completed. A number of ladies were invited to the meeting then, and Mr. Leon Odebrecht for nearly an hour entertained the audience with a resume of leading current events. Among these were the Coal Miners' Strike, the Disarmament Treaty, Ireland's Freedom, Russia's condition, and other topics. He also answered a number of questions piled him. He was given a rising vote of thanks for his entertaining talk. Miss Abbie Krauss and Cora Uhl were tendered a vote of thanks for their activity in the sale of tickets for the recent social. They disposed quite a number of them.

At the teachers meeting last Monday afternoon Mr. W. B. Fish, brother of Mrs. J. C. Winemiller, of Cleveland, gave a lecture. His theme was Education from the standpoint of a business man. It was a practical and interesting talk and greatly enjoyed.

The office Manufacturing Company, formerly the American Railroad Company, want deaf ladies to do hand sewing. Application should be made to Karl Burger, 628 East Noble Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis, who for the past few years have made their home in Detroit, have moved to Algona, Michigan. The change was caused by the slack of business in Detroit. He will be supervisor of the Smith and Sons Boat Company plants in his new location, and we feel sure he will give the firm entire satisfaction, for he has been in the boat building business for these many years, in Sandusky and Detroit. His new address is Algona, Michigan, Box 107.

About 175 pupils, in charge of Messrs. Beckert and Charles Brown, were given the privilege of attending a lecture and sliding views in Memorial Hall Monday evening. They had seats together in the balcony, while Rev. Read was on the platform below near the speaker and interpreted the latter's talk. It was a fine treat for the boys and girls, and thoroughly enjoyed. The speaker was Mr. Ernest Harold Baynes, of Meriden, New Hampshire, a noted naturalist of birds.

Rev. O. C. Schroeder, a missionary to the deaf, addressed the pupils at their chapel service Tuesday morning. He is a Southern Missianter and covers a wide field in his work from Buffalo, N. Y., through Ohio and the West.

The Columbus Evening Dispatch a few weeks ago started a bird house contest, offering prizes to successful winners. It was for school children only. There were two classes original design houses and dispatch plan houses. The prizes for the first four winners of each class were: Large radio set first, large radio set tool chest, second; top chest radio set third, radio set field glasses, fourth, field glasses. There were in all 56 prizes and among others besides those mentioned above were $5 in cash, baseballs, baseball gloves, pocket knives (Boy Scout) army compass, baseball shoes, nature books, etc. There were hundreds of contestants. The result of the contest was announced yesterday, and among the successful ones from the School for Deaf, were these:

Original Design, ninth, H. Denko, age 16; twelfth, Ralph Linweaver, age 14; twenty-third, Denver Schwartz, age 16.

From Dispatch Plan: Nineteenth, Robert Bowling, age 16; honorable mention Cecil Rose and H. Zietz.

The winners were photographed this morning at the north steps of the Capitol, and then went to the Dispatch office and were given their prizes. There will be another contest next Spring. Besides the boys of the School for Deaf who won prizes or received honorable mention, there were 17 others who built bird houses and had them on exhibition at the Hall Hardware Store on High Street.

Mr. R. P. MacGregor went up to Piqua to-day, where this evening he will give a reading under the auspices of the Piqua Society, for the benefit of the Home for Deaf.

Lester Bammer stopped off here yesterday on his way from Huntington, West Va., where he had been employed in a Rail Company since Spring, to Youngstown, Ohio. He was formerly employed at a mill there, till the hard times forced him to seek employment elsewhere. Now he has been recalled.

April 15, 1922.—Mr. Collins S. Sawhill arrived in Columbus, Tuesday evening, and was the guest of Superintendent Jones until his departure for Cleveland, Friday afternoon. During his stay in the city, he called upon old friends, and also went up to the Home for the Deaf to get a look at the Men's new building. He found it a fine structure, and within everything was new and comfortable for the occupants.

Friday morning, Mr. Sawhill at the Chapel service gave a talk to the pupils, comparing the climate and conditions between Sunny South and the North. Down there, he said, the colored population was more respectful and unobtrusive toward the whites than those of the North. Work was still slack in many places, and consequently many of the deaf were idle. Printers, however, were more favored, as most of them had work.

Mr. Sawhill had been visiting in Nashville, Tenn., and on the evening before his departure, the deaf of the city tendered him a surprise party and a reception. It was largely attended, and as an appreciation of his services to them, he was presented with a box of fine cigars.

The teachers of the school have been excused from conducting their Sunday School classes tomorrow. Some of those living out of town have gone to their homes to spend Easter. The Seniors will conduct the lesson for the day, with all the pupils assembled in Chapel.

Mr. Charles Lober is back in the city from a visit to various parts of the state, and calling upon friends.

John Moss, of Findlay, O., was brought to the Home to become a resident last week. He is about sixty years old.

Mrs. Nelle Lynch Perego, of the Home, is visiting with friends in Kingston, O., where her home was while she was a pupil of the school back in the eighties.

Much of the week has been rainy, and baseball practice for the boys has been delayed somewhat. They are anxious to get into action, and play the game with outside clubs.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE DEAF OF NEW YORK

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Alphabet A. C., Artists' Club, Brooklyn Division No. 23, N. F. S. D., Brooklyn Guild of Deaf-Mutes, Clark D. M. A. C., Deaf Mutes Union League, De L'Epee Society, Fanwood A. C., Virginia B. Gallaudet Association, Woman's Parish Aid Society of St. Ann's, Xavier Society of Deaf, etc., etc.:

Each and all of you are respectfully invited to attend the Business Meeting of the GREATER NEW YORK BRANCH, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF, to be held at St. Ann's Church, 511 West 148th Street, on THURSDAY evening, May 4th, 1922, at 8 P. M.

The aims and objects of our several organizations are praiseworthy and deserving of every possible support. But did it ever occur to you that as an "organized body" we, the New York deaf, possess no standing worthy of the name? The only "standing" we seem to have is in the subways.

Only by united effort and concerted action can we ever hope to achieve necessary legislation and protect our common interests. No single individual or organization can do it alone—and should not be expected to.

Is it not time, then, that we actually get together and act together? The meeting on Thursday evening, May 4th, will afford us this opportunity. Come!

Respectfully yours,
MARCUS L. KENNER,
President.

The Sesqui-Centennial celebration which is to be held in this city in 1926 will extend along the Parkway to Fairmount Park and along the Schuylkill River. It will thus be very convenient to the railroad stations and hotels in the heart of the city. We shall insert in our column brief notes of the progress being made in building the Exposition and its plans from time to time as they are made known. The information may be helpful to those who may desire to visit Philadelphia while the Exposition is open.

The Parkway above referred to is a new diagonal avenue or boulevard extending from the City Hall straight to Fairmount Park. The whole area that it occupies was covered with houses and buildings about ten years ago. The city had to buy and remove them at an expense of millions of dollars. And it is still getting more on both sides of the boulevard.

Palm Sunday was observed in the usual way at All Souls' Church for the Deaf. The weather was delightfully fair and pleasant, but it did not, as might be expected, serve to increase the attendance at church.

The Gallaudet Club, at its last meeting, ordered a bouquet of flowers sent to Mr. Ziegler as an expression of its sympathy. Mr. Ziegler is one of the oldest members of the Club.

For the convenience of those who wish to write to Mr. Ziegler, we will say that his address is No. 205 West Mt. Pleasant Avenue, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Ziegler is receiving letters from sympathetic friends which gave him a lot of cheer, but he is in no condition to answer them and even cannot dictate to others what he wishes to say, except a very little. He is, however, able to read letters and to understand what is said to him. His friends will therefore understand when no acknowledgment is received.

Mrs. Ross V. Mohr, of Cleveland, Ohio, came here unheralded several weeks ago to visit her mother. Her many friends were delighted to see her again, for she is a most charming lady. Her stay here may be prolonged for two months. The only regret is that Mr. Mohr cannot be here also.

Mrs. Nancy Moore and Miss Mabel Wilson, who spent the winter here, took rather sudden leave of their friends on Sunday evening, April 9th, for their former home in Canada, in order to enable them to attend a service there on Easter. They are expected to return to Philadelphia after the summer, if not earlier.

The local deaf are reminded of the Kirkman Soap Company moving picture show at All Souls' Hall on Saturday evening, April 23d. A silver offering will be asked for admission. Each lady attending will receive a cake of soap free.

Peter F. McCullough, who committed suicide in Akron, Ohio, during a fit of temporary insanity, was buried in Philadelphia in the middle of last week. His widow, who was formerly Miss Mary Price of this city, and her little boy, will now live with her mother here. The young widow has our sincere sympathy.

Last March 18th, Mrs. Kate Hoopes and Miss Gertrude M. Downey of this city visited Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lupolt at Coatesville, Pa., for two days. The next day was Sunday, when Mrs. J. Myers and Mr. and Mrs. Musser, of Lancaster, also showed up there. Mr. and Mrs. Lupolt occupy a pretty and comfortable apartment in Coatesville. They were married last December.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel L. Schwartz visited Atlantic City over Sunday, April 9th, the latter remaining there a few days longer.

Mrs. Lucy Luke's son, William Miles, who is enlisted in the Army, was recently married in Virginia.

Mr. Le Roy Moore, of Harrisburg, visited his daughter in West Philadelphia, last Sunday, April 2d. He turned up at All Souls' in the afternoon. Mr. Moore is employed in the State Printing Office and doing well.

Mr. Hartley Dans, of Salem, N. J., and Mr. Henry Reigel, of Reigelsville, Pa., were other visitors to All Souls' on April 2d.

William C. Shepherd makes frequent short visits to Atlantic City. On March 26th, he changed to Washington, D. C., for a visit. We may know the reason of these trips better later.

Mrs. M. Haight was one of our recent visitors. She spent nearly three weeks here as the guest of Mrs. Syle, illness having prolonged her visit.

Mr. William H. Lipsett was presented a Waterman Ideal fountain-pen, as an appreciation, by the Pastoral Aid Society a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Georgia Elwell was a visitor at All Souls' on April 9th.

Four novices were introduced to the goat at the last Frat meeting here on April 7th.

PITTSBURGH.

One is never too old or too young to attend a ball game of any sort. Thus it was that Henry Bardes, a nestor in "the game," and Bert Castellani, young enough to be his grandson, chummed at the Wilkinsburg H. S. gym. some time ago and had the satisfaction of seeing two exciting basketball games, one being a girls' game. In spite of the jam in the crowd they had a glorious time, they said.

We were glad to be informed that the "Frat" dance and social, March 25th, was a very successful affair. There was a large attendance, and fun and the "light fantastic" were never more enjoyed. Of course when the right sort of a crowd get together, a good time just naturally follows.

The deaf membership in the First Presbyterian Church, Wilkinsburg, is still growing. At the last communion, March 26th, there were 38 members present besides some visitors. The services are so well interpreted that it attracts about all who are within easy reach. Among those who were there were J. E. Rosensteel of Ebensburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baudis, of Altoona.

Mrs. Teegarden's sister, Mrs. Charles Bennett, of New Kensington, was run down by an automobile in the city a month ago and has been in the hospital ever since. Mrs. Teegarden, however, was not informed of the accident until last week. She was able to see her on Sunday, and found her well on the way to recovery; nevertheless, it was a narrow escape from death. Through the courtesy of Harold Smith, Mrs. Teegarden had an auto ride to and from the hospital. Harold seems to enjoy using his machine to help his friends.

Through a newspaper report we learn that the Home at Dylestown has been bequeathed $5,000 by the will of Mr. Henry A. Laughlin, formerly of Pittsburgh. Mr. Laughlin was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and one of its most faithful supporters. According to the newspaper report, he willed that institution $50,000, and to the Pittsburgh Institution for the Blind, over which Mr. T. S. McAloney presides, also $50,000. These are all substantial gifts, certainly, and no doubt are highly appreciated.

At the meeting of the Pittsburgh Division, No. 36, N. F. S. D., April 1st, three members were initiated, although no report was issued as to how they managed the goat, but it is assumed they came through with flying colors. Several applications for membership were also received at this meeting.

The N. A. D. Branch, through its hustling committee on entertainment, is hard at work preparing for its vaudeville entertainment and dance to be held April 1st at the Edgewood Club house. Tickets for this affair are being disposed of at a rapid rate. It is thought the dance part of the program will be well patronized by the hearing folk in this neighborhood. Anyway no stone is being left unturned to bring about success on a large scale.

Since writing the opening paragraph of this letter, we are sorry to say that Mr. Bardes was taken ill last week, although he kept on at work until Saturday, when he seemed to be so bad his friends insisted on him staying home and calling a doctor. He was put to bed and ordered to keep quiet. He proved a difficult patient to handle as he insisted he was able to go about his business. If he escapes a serious case of pneumonia, he will be lucky. His friends are doing what they can to bring him around all right, and we believe they will succeed. His many friends are much concerned about his condition and all wish for a speedy recovery.

The coral of which ladies' ornaments are made is found in different parts of the Mediterranean, but principally on the coasts of Barbary and the Island of Sardinia. The pieces derive their value from their weight and color. Jet black and rose-colored corals are the most esteemed although a deeper red, white and dark dirty gray abound. The last is nearly valueless. Coral is found at a depth varying from about eight to thirty-four fathoms, the best being near the surface. The growth is very remarkable—what is taken in one summer being often replaced the following winter.—Detroit News.

TO MEET IN DENVER
IN 1927

Read what Grand Secretary Gibson said in The Frat of May, 1918, on his visit to Denver, after an auto trip around the Look-out Mountain—
"The scenery? Well, the delighted and enthralled visitor said what he thought of it, but to write it is a task beyond him—all the adjectives in his lexicon would be needed and the tale would be long. He can only say here that he hopes every one of his fraters will some day have the opportunity to see it for themselves."
So, remember Denver, 1927.

Life Insurance in this Company, as a rule, costs you nothing. Looking back after 10 or 15 years have gone by, you know that if you had not saved that money for your annual premium, you would not have saved it at all!

The New England Mutual (Oldest Chartered Life Insurance Company in U.S.) offers you the most liberal policy contract possible.

No discrimination against deaf-mutes. No charge for medical examination.

You gain nothing by delay. For full information and latest list of policyholders, address—
